Please Join Us:

Wednesday, September 26, 2012
5:15 – 6:30 PM
250 McCampbell Hall

Featured Presenter:
Aaron Kaat is a fourth-year graduate student in the Intellectual and Developmental Disabilities Psychology PhD program. His interests include psychometrics and measurement issues, behavior problems, and social skills. He completed his master’s thesis in 2011, studying the relationship between social skills deficits consistent with an autism spectrum disorder and comorbid psychiatric symptom severity among a sample of children with intellectual disability.

Please plan to attend and be seated by 5:10 PM.