5:15 – 6:30 PM
250 McCampbell Hall

Featured Presenter:

Dr. Lawton is an assistant professor of Special Education at The Ohio State University and the director of Early Childhood Education at Nisonger Center, UCEDD. Research interests include assessing the transportability of university evidence-based early childhood interventions to home and school, determining the effectiveness of early interventions implemented by parents, teachers, and university clinicians, and identifying individual differences in the treatment effectiveness of those participating in early intervention.

Please plan to attend and be seated by 5:10 PM.
