Michael Aman to receive Edgar A. Doll Award from American Psychological Association
February 21, 2011

Michael G. Aman, PhD, director of research at The Ohio State University Nisonger Center, was named as the recipient of the 2011 Edgar A. Doll Award from Division 33 of the American Psychological Association. The award is the division's highest recognition of a career marked by outstanding scientific contributions to the field of intellectual and developmental disabilities. The award will be presented at the annual APA meeting in August. Dr. Aman is also program director of the Nisonger Center's Research Unit on Pediatric Psychopharmacology and professor of psychology and psychiatry at Ohio State.

Contact: Vicki Graff, 614-247-4801, vicki.graff@osumc.edu.