Ohio Disability and Health Program

David is a Disability Health Policy Specialist with the Ohio Disability and Health Program. He has spent the last six years at the Ohio Department of Health in the Office of Performance Improvement and operates out of the Office of Health Equity. David serves as the Ohio Department of Health's foremost expert on ensuring optimal health for Ohioans with disabilities and helps determine strategies, targets, and outcomes to achieve better health outcomes for the disabled population in Ohio. David has worked diligently to build relationships with decision-makers at the local, state, and national-levels to educate on the importance inclusive health and wellness strategies and increase the visibility of disability and health issues. David has been on the forefront of addressing issues that have impacted the disability community during the COVID-19 pandemic. David has helped to ensure that people with disabilities are involved in key decisions and helps lead a Disability Advisory Committee at the Ohio Department of Health to ensure that the voice of the disability community informs the Department's response and recovery efforts. David was appointed to serve on Governor Mike DeWine's Minority Health Strike Team to combat the health disparities in COVID-19 outcomes in underserved and minority communities and currently serves on the Minority Health Vaccination Planning Team.
